

THE GOLDEN PLATE

“oh!” Faros wakes up from his sleep in the cave of falcon.

“It’s morning already!” exclaims Faros as he looks out the caves ventilator shaft ( air passage ), the only opening to the outside world for the cave for security concerns.

“The foundation had a strong foothold in the forest and has already a research cave in the heart of the forest. So Falo and Hila moved in gladly funded by her dad’s foundation and carried on with the research works for the foundation in the forest life.”

“I have grown beards!” Faros says as he rubs his hand over his newly grown stubbles. “Oh yeah! I am 18 today!” smiles Faros.

He heads for the caves bathroom and looks for the electric shaver his uncle Falo use to use when him and Aunty Hila were residing in this cave.

He finds it and begins by switching it on. “It works!” says Faros. He starts to Trim and Shave.

As soon as he finishes the cave door ringer rings and the security camera shows Hila at the cave door. “Hi Aunty.” Says Faros with a smile “Good morning to you.”

“Good morning Faros! How have you been dear?” smiles Hila. “Looks like you have shaved!”

“Yup! Its my 18th birthday today Aunty.” Replies Faros.

“Wow! Really! Happy Birthday Faros!” Hila hugs Faros and places a kiss on Faros cheeks. Faros kisses his Aunty back and then kisses again this time on her lips.

“Hmm...that’s better Faros, you are a little less shy then you were when you were a kid” exclaims Hila a little surprised at Faros kissing episode a while back. She could sworn she felt his hands on her buttocks! For some odd reason Faros seems to be very attracted towards his own Aunty

Shaking off the idea from her head she begins by asking “So how is everything else? Come sit down Faros I need to talk to you”. Hila takes a chair at the dining table. Faros joins in and sits beside her.

“You need to shave twice Faros, two rounds with the shaver, you still have some stubs left on your neck and cheeks.” Points out Hila.

“Ah ok Aunty..will be right back!” says Faros as he starts to leave the dinning chair...

“Not now Faros , come sit down. I need to tell you something important. It’s about your Uncle Falo and his death in the hands of Murder Dog.” Sadness shows in Hila’s eyes as she utters those words.

FROM “THUNDARR CITY” ;

The day came by when it was time. The time Murder Dog would strike as he did before the first Falcon. The Dog would do the same to the Second and if required the Third and Forth. The Dog will not rest till Falcon’s are dead as soon as they get the Ring of Power. The Ring of Power has power to harm evil and stop evil on its track but it has no power to save Falcons!

The Dog being the dog he is devises a plan which is quite amusing. He will take Falcon out of his “cave” by a display of fireworks. So he gets a bag of fireworks and starts to light them up one by one and soon the firework starts with a display of fire at works.

It is a sight of beauty and awe.

Hearing all the bangs Hila and Falo runs from the bathroom towards the door. Falo in the meantime thinks and feels something is amiss and so he puts on his protective Falcon suit. The Ring of Power at his finger and tells Hila before he heads off “Honey I will check it out no worries. Let’s see what all these commotion is all about” saying so he heads for the cave door and punches in the code 7-8-9-7 to open the sliding metal door.

“WOW!” Falo exclaims in sheer joy as he watches a fantastic display of fireworks at work just outside his cave.

As he stares on , the Dog , Murder Dog , jumps off behind him with a huge screwdriver and plunges it inside the skull of Falo Faros.

“But that was not all Faros.” Tears fall from Hila’s eyes as she speaks ever so painfully with memories of her great loss.”After your uncle was murdered by the Dog, I came out rushing towards his bleeding skull dead body and started to sob uncontrolled bursting with emotions, yet I noticed one thing about your dead uncle’s Falcon costume..the GOLDEN PLATE of Falcon was missing!” Hila look straight into the eyes of Faros.

From THE HISTORY OF FALCON Faro Faros reads “..As it begins the Planet of Thunder is where the RING OF FALCON was found by the First Falcon. It landed in a space container in the forest of Thundarr. The container was discovered by Gouz Canman who was able to open the container by placing his hand on the “hand lock scan recognizer”. The container recognized the true nature of his heart and soul once he placed his hands on it and gave him permission to open the container and bear the RING OF FALCON which only works for those who are worthy of becoming THE FALCON, And .....

The Golden Plate which gives Falcon ring bearer the fire proof , piercing proof Falcon costume abilities when placed on the costume plate holder. Also it gives Falcon the ability to fly depending on mental ability and telepathic communications ability of the Ring bearer. The Ring Bearers experience in handling and utilizing the Power Ring also contributes to the factor of Falcon flight power.

Faros looks back at his Auntie's pretty eyes and replies " Yes Auntie I know of the GOLDEN PLATE of Falcon as I have read about it in "THE HISTORY OF FALCON". So I know about it and its capabilities."

"I see" Hila wipes off her tears, "You say you have met the Dog?"

"Yes Auntie, he came by to visit me and kill me of course!" Faros pauses "a week back".

"I have located where the Dog resides now at present. Thundarr City" Hila looks excited. "I have his full address!" .

"Really! But how Auntie?"

"My son. Your cousin, Cal Faros, he is running your uncles previously owned company DRINK INC." Hila hands out Cal's business card to Faros.

"He will help you find and drag out the Dog" smiles Hila. "You will meet him once you are in Thundarr City central station."

"That's awesome Auntie! I get to meet my cousin. You may recall we were very close when we were kids. I still remember those fishing trips him , dad , uncle and me took oh so many times." Faros finds himself reminiscing.

“Lets have breakfast Aunty, I am starving. Lets talk about Cal and his company over the meal.” Faros heads for the fridge.

The next morning Faros takes his bike out into the fresh forest air and rides it through the thick jungle of Thundarr Forest. He rides for 40 minutes and reaches Thundarr Forest Station. Stops his electric bike in front of the ticket counter.

“One ticket to the City please.” Says Faros to the ticket counter officer.

“Thundarr?” asks the man.

“Yes please and add in a cargo hold ticket for my bike here...” Faros points toward his bike.

Faros pays the ticket price , all 55 thunders in change , takes it and rides his bike straight for the Train Cargo Hold. He rides in direct and switched his bike off. Gets off and heads for the passenger compartments. Finds his seat number as the train starts to leave the station and seats beside a man with his hat pulled over his face , fast asleep. Faros also starts to sleep on his 7.5 hours journey towards the City, Thundarr City.

He wakes up in the train to find a magazine in front of him left by a passenger on the seat. The magazine is the DEC’s monthly report. He takes it and starts turning the pages and comes across a report ;

"CAPT FAROS

Its been a year already that our Captain Faros was lost in the forest of Thundarr when his sun powered electric jet plane disappeared in the thick jungle. A search and rescue team was able to locate his wrangled jet but not him. He is still listed under the MISSING DECIANS list. In his honor we are publishing this report so as to remember him and his service to us."

"Oh yes I forgot to report to DEC that I am still alive and well. But it will complicate things a lot as they will want me back as a pilot in the DEC force due to my service records." Faros thinks.

"That can be taken care of later. Maybe I will ask for Cal's help on this as he has some high business connections and just may have enough influence on all this to solve it for good!" Faros thoughts says and he smiles.

The train docks at Thundarr City Stations.
